DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 12 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6,872,212. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they recite the same subject matters as following: placing a vacuum extraction device on a fetus, inducing a vacuum pressure in the pressure area, and detecting the vacuum pressure in the pressure area.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 14 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. In claim 14, line 1, the disclosure corresponding to elected figure 7 does not describe the transducer includes a Wheat Stone Bridge as recited. Also, in claim 18, lines 1-2, the disclosure corresponding to fig. 7 does not describe the traction force and the vacuum pressure are displayed on separate graphs on trace paper of the fetal monitor. The examiner asks the applicant as to the location in the specification submitted on 7/14/2003 for support of claims 14 and claim 18.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 12-13 and 15-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Union et al. (5,566,680). Union discloses in figures 1 and 5-6, a method of assisting with fetal extraction, including: attaching a suction device to a fetus by placing the suction device on the fetus (see col. 21, lines 7-12) and inducing a vacuum pressure in the suction device (see col. 1, lines 20-26), where detecting the vacuum pressure (see col. 3, lines 5-9), and where displaying the vacuum pressure on a fetal monitor (230), where the vacuum pressure is accomplished with a transducer (240). At best seen in fig. 1, a traction force can display on the fetal monitor.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 17 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: None of the prior art of record, alone or in combination, discloses all of the limitations of claim 17 including, the traction force and the vacuum pressure are displayed simultaneously on the same graph on the same trace paper on the fetal monitor.

As allowable subject matter has been indicated, applicant's reply must either comply with all formal requirements or specifically traverse each requirement not complied with. See 37 CFR 1.111(b) and MPEP § 707.07(a).

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 3/21/2007 and 8/24/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant argues that Urion et al reference fails to show certain feature of applicant's invention, it is noted that the feature upon which applicant relies (i.e., monitoring suction pressure in a suction device, or traction pressures) is not recited in the rejected claim(s) 12-13. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

In response to applicant's argument that Urion does not disclose such traction pressure or a traction force. In fact, Urion discloses in col. 19, lines 24-34 some sources of traction pressure or a traction force by a vacuum(see col. 21, lines 6-12). This type of vacuum almost has an act of pulling or drawing which parallels the applicant traction force or traction pressures. Accordingly, the above noted reference is still considered to read on the claimed limitations of the claims noted.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
